Each day hereafter districts going beyond the quota will be announced. This report is only for those districts that have reached or have gone beyond their quota.

Two days extension has been given to the United War Works Campaign, and although Orange county has reached 109 per cent of its quota, the drive is going vigorously ahead with the hope of reaching a coveted goal of 150 per cent.

Orange county workers want to be listed as having raised fifty per cent more than was asked of it. They want to thank the soldiers overseas that they think a whole lot of their welfare.

Today S. H. Finley, county chairman, said that the campaign is to be waged right up to Wednesday night. There are some of the teams still at work, and there are a good many people who were missed in the house-to-house canvass.

"Many individuals have been missed," said Chairman Finley, "and these people should be given the opportunity to subscribe. They can do so either by sending or taking their money or pledges directly to headquarters, 204 1/2 East Fourth street, or by leaving them with H. A. Gardner, the city chairman, room 3, Orange County Trust Building."

Orange county has now raised and reported in about $88,000. An examination of the accompanying table shows that eighteen of the fifty districts in the county have reported totals showing the quotas exceeded. Diamond district holds top place with a percentage of 216. Several of the districts have gone over 150 per cent. Santa Ana is not yet through subscribing.

Seal Beach is over the top. This means more effort on the part of the people there than to go fifty per cent over does to many other districts, and they are entitled to great credit for it. The quota being based on population and assessed valuation, makes it difficult for the beach cities to secure their quotas, owing to the fact that at this season such a large percentage of the population is absent.

WAR FUND CAMPAIGN EXTENDED TWO DAYS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18.—Two days' extension of the campaign for funds in the United War Work drive was announced here today. During those two days the local committee expects to secure the $244,311 necessary to make up the Los Angeles quota of $915,201.

PREDICT DECREASE OF GASOLINE PRICE

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Nov. 18.—Decreases in gasoline prices were predicted here today by leading oil men.

THIS is a picture of the men of Co. L, 160th, who left Camp Kearny together under Capt. Holderman, and who were still together about five weeks ago. The picture was taken in a park near where Co. L was billeted. A number of French children with whom the company members made friends are also in the picture. Included in the picture are a few men who joined Co. L at San Luis Obispo. The picture was sent by Welcome Ward to his mother, Mrs. W. M. Ward, 1101 West Sixth. Efforts to identify those in the picture have resulted as follows:

Next to lower row—2, Wm. Donnelly; 3, Earl King (with pipe in his mouth); 4, Jack Leonard.

HINDENBURG HAND IS STILL IN CONTROL OF GERMAN ARMY

World Democracies Cannot Yet Relax Vigilance, For Hun Militarists Control

BY J. W. T. MASON

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The occupation of Brussels by the Belgian troops five days after the signing of the armistice with little intervening order, is an indication that the German high command continues to impose discipline upon the retreating army.

The first period of retirement under the conditions now facing the Germans is always the most perilous. The behavior of the revolutionary movement has a precedent that has far-reaching influence upon future events.

The authority of Von Hindenburg continues to be recognized by all of the German army units except possibly the group under Marshal von Mackensen in southeastern Europe. Von Mackensen, however, is not sufficiently powerful to dispute Von Hindenburg's sway. He is perhaps the most disliked commander in Germany among the proletariat because he initiated the custom of kissing Hohenzollern's hand when Hohenzollern was Kaiser. It is, therefore, to Hindenburg that the new government at Berlin looks for preservation of order. There is undoubtedly a serious menace in this fact to the continuance of a true democracy, non-militaristic regime in Germany. His sword is Germany's but the Germany of the Hohenzollerns and the Junkers.

If the German army reaches home with its original solidarity maintained, the credit for the achievement will be principally Von Hindenburg's. All the early evidence is that he will be successful in this accomplishment. The Socialistic ministry at Berlin has not sufficient confidence in its own prowess or in its own authority to take control of the army from Von Hindenburg.

If, therefore, reasonable order is maintained in Germany during the present transition period, it is not the Berlin Socialists, but the Von Hindenburg militarists to whom the German people may yet turn with expressions of gratitude. The world's democracies must be on their guard, therefore, as to any relaxing of vigilance.

'A NEW DAY SHINES ABOUT US; GIVE THANKS TO GOD, 28TH, FOR GREAT TRIUMPH OF RIGHT'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Thursday, November 28, is proclaimed as this year's day of "Thanksgiving and prayer" in President Wilson's annual Thanksgiving proclamation, just issued, which reads as follows:

"It has long been our custom to turn in the autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His many blessings and mercies to us as a nation. This year we have special and moving causes to be grateful and to rejoice. God has, in His good pleasure, given us peace. It has not come as a mere cessation of arms, a mere relief from the strain and tragedy of war. It has come as a great triumph of right.

"Complete victory has brought us, not peace alone, but the confident promise of a new day as well, in which justice shall replace force and jealous intrigue among the nations.

"Our gallant armies have participated in a triumph which is not marred or stained by any purpose of selfish aggression. In a righteous cause they have won immortal glory and have nobly served their nation in serving mankind.

"God has indeed been gracious. We have cause for such rejoicing as revives and strengthens in us all the best traditions of our national history. A new day shines about us, in which our hearts take new courage and look forward with new hope to new and greater duties.

"While we render thanks for these things, let us not forget to seek the divine guidance in the performance of those duties and divine mercy and forgiveness for all errors of act or purpose, and pray that in all we do that we shall strengthen the ties of friendship and mutual respect upon which we must assist to build the new structure of peace and good will among the nations.

"Wherefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thursday, the 28th day of November, next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and invite the people throughout the land to cease upon that day from their ordinary occupations and in their several homes and places of worship to render thanks to God, the ruler of nations.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done in the District of Columbia, this 16th day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and forty-third.

"WOODROW WILSON.

"By the President:
"ROBERT LANSING,
"Secretary of State."

He finally consented, weeping bitterly.

The Journal Venkon reports that soldiers attacked Odollos castle with the intention of murdering the royal family but that Karl and the empress managed to escape to Eckartsau.

EDDIE RICKENBACKER FIRED LAST SHOT OF GREAT WAR, BELIEVED

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMIES IN FRANCE, Nov. 18.—Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, of Columbus, Ohio, dean of American aces, is believed to have fired the last shot of the war. He was given the honor of making the last fight over the German lines before the armistice became effective.

Rickenbacker left his hangar at 10:45 a. m. last Monday for his last flight.

At exactly 10:59 Rickenbacker passed over a German transport column and held the trigger of his machine gun down for a minute.

In that time he poured 850 rounds of shot into the boches, who scattered before him.

General Liggett yesterday decorated Rickenbacker, Lieutenant Louis Simon, also of Columbus, and five other aviators, with the American distinguished service cross.

Both Rickenbacker and Simon were granted medals by the French government last week.

LONG BEACH, Nov. 18.—Orval Mowrey, 15 years of age, son of David Mowrey, keeper of the Pasadena Gun Club, died yesterday of influenza. He was a sophomore at the high school and a member of the school orchestra. Two others in the family recently recovered from influenza.

PLAN RECEPTION UNPARALLELED IN HISTORY FOR WILSON

All Europe Looks to Coming of President, Hailed as Man of Victory and Peace

PARIS, Nov. 18.—A reception unparalleled by any known in history awaits President Wilson in Europe. The French call him the man of victory, the man of peace and the man who won liberty for mankind. He has become more than a personage. To the French he is a symbol of the world-wide party of "live and let live."

It is not expected here that he will remain longer than the first sittings of the peace conference, which are expected to begin the middle of December and last for some time. (No official word of any kind has come so far to indicate that President Wilson is going abroad, but the belief that he plans to make the trip, appears to be firmly fixed in Europe.)

The actual peace conference, it is predicted here, will be shorter than generally thought possible. At the preliminary sessions, the Allies will agree on just terms to Germany and at the regular meetings it will only remain for the Germans to accept these and discuss the details.

The Allied armies of occupation are moving methodically on toward the Rhine. French troops led by General Mangin are expected to enter Metz Tuesday. Americans will participate in the movement.

It is probable that the Belgian Government and the diplomatic corps accredited to Belgium will not enter Brussels before Saturday. The troops, however, are already in the city.

Paris is still celebrating the return of Alsace-Lorraine, with enthusiastic demonstrations day and night.

BOLSHEVISM MIGHT DELAY THE PEACE CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Government officials are fearful lest bolshevism in one guise or another, shall burst forth in Germany with detrimental effects.

In such an event, the assembling at the peace table would undoubtedly be delayed.

However, those in authority here and abroad are proceeding with the preliminaries as fast as possible and will go ahead with the conference if wild disorder does not break over Germany.

American ideals will be spread throughout Europe soon, as an educative force for the peace table. Members of the committee on public information are going abroad this week. The first group will probably be headed by Edgar Slisson, who acted as special government agent in Russia. Later it is likely that George Creel will take another group over.

Elimination of cable censorship will aid the dissemination of American news and views.

President Wilson's Thanksgiving proclamation, just issued, pronounced anew the doctrine that America was not in the war for aggressive purposes and it is not actuated by other than altruistic motives.

KING ALCOHOL TO FOLLOW KAISER ON JULY ONE

National Prohibition Bill Has Passed the Senate, Up to President Wilson

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The Senate today adopted the conference report on the war-time prohibition bill, which now goes to President Wilson. The long contest on this measure really ended when the Senate receded from anti-prohibition amendment which the House had failed to accept.

The prohibition measure makes the entire country bone dry after July 1, 1919. This prohibition lasts until all American troops have been demobilized.

Prohibition forces say that by the time the demobilization is finished, the constitutional amendment making the country dry will have been ratified by the necessary number of states to make prohibition permanent.

LAST MINUTE BULLETINS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18.—New cases of Spanish influenza reported for the last 24 hours in Los Angeles total 555. There were 19 deaths.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18.—Belief was expressed here today that the charges of violating the espionage act against E. D. Sexton and 25 other members of the International Bible Students' Association will be dropped. Sexton and his associates were tried once and the jury disagreed. When the case was called today in Federal court the U. S. attorney asked that it be placed on the January calendar, and in the meantime he would decide what disposition would be made of the matter.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18.—Southern California today was getting its first big rain of the season. Sixty-four one-hundredths of an inch of rain fell here during the night, and weather bureau reports showed the rain was quite general in the south.

"Indications are that it is far from over," was the announcement of the weather bureau in discussing the storm. More rain was the prediction for the next 24 hours.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 18.—Safe blowers today got $2000 in money and war saving stamps when they cracked the safe in the Owl Drug Company's store here.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—With a high wind and the highest tide in San Francisco's waters front history, San Francisco piers were awash this morning, and big ships lying in the bay dragged their anchors. At noon bay shipping was practically brought to a standstill. The damage done will not be heavy.

PARIS, Nov. 18.—According to official French figures, the number of French prisoners in Germany is 420,000. The whole process of repatriating them probably will take six weeks.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Senator Lodge today introduced a resolution into the Senate providing that all dealers in German-made goods must display a sign stating that they sell German goods and must also mention the fact in their advertising.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Congress will adjourn next Thursday, if leaders will support a program reached today by the House and Senate Conference committee. This adjournment, if it occurs, will throw the revenue bill into the December session, which begins December 2.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The senate progressives today opened their fight to prevent the Republican "Old Guard" from monopolizing power after March 4.

Senator Norris of Nebraska introduced a resolution to amend the senate rules so that the chairman of any of the big eight senate committees cannot be made a member of any other of the leading eight committees.

The eight committees are finance, foreign relations, military affairs, naval affairs, appropriations, interstate commerce, judiciary and postoffice, upon which will rest responsibility for formulation of reconstruction legislation.

Ordinarily the rules committee would at once pigeon hole a rule of this kind proposed by a Republican, but as an element of the Democrats is eager to form some sort of a coalition with the Progressives who will hold the balance of power in the next senate, it is expected the resolution will be reported out by the rules committee and will be the subject of a fight on the floor of the senate.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—President Wilson today nominated John W. Davis to be ambassador to Great Britain and Alexander C. King of Atlanta, Ga., to succeed Davis as solicitor general of the United States. He also nominated Captain Albert Niblack to be a rear admiral in the navy.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Approximately one-third of the ships built and building by the U. S. shipping board will be used in trade between North and South America. It was learned from high official sources today that of 25,000,000 tons in the shipping program, the board plans to turn 8,000,000 tons into Latin-American trade.

PARIS, Nov. 18.—German soldiers have been rioting in Metz since November 10, according to a correspondent of Le Matin, who went to that city to wait its restoration. The French are scheduled to enter Metz tomorrow.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 18.—Lieutenant Sir S. Wilson, commander in chief of the Allied forces on the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles, today established his headquarters at the British embassy here.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 18.—A demand that the Rhine provinces be occupied only by British and American troops was made by the Cologne Gazette. This newspaper expressed a fear that the French would incite the populations of these provinces.

BRUGES, Belgium, Nov. 18.—Thirteen American Marine officers returned here after having motored to Brussels. On the trip they passed mounted German sentries, who smiled. The Americans brought back in their car two British prisoners they found walking along the road.

BY WEBB MILLER

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE AMERICANS ADVANCING TOWARD THE RHINE, Nov. 18. (By courier to Verdun and Bar Le Duc.)—The third army resumed its advance into German territory at dawn today. When the march began the left wing of the Americans rested on the Franco-Belgian frontier, while the right wing was near the German border in the Metz region.

The American troops had camped during the night an average of nearly ten miles within the former German possessions along the general lines of Ecouvieu, Sorbent, Gournacourt and Mars-La-Tour, a front of about fifty miles.

In the first day's march, the Americans reclaimed nearly 500 square miles of French territory. Most of the towns, which had been badly shot up, were deserted by the Germans only a few hours before the Americans reached them.

The few inhabitants hailed the Americans with delight. The advance proceeded smoothly, averaging three miles an hour.

Signal corps men were kept busy bringing up new wires. The troops were fully equipped, wore their tin hats and carried gas masks.

The infantry was in the lead, followed by machine guns, artillery, supply trains and ambulances. Each division was about thirty miles in length. All ordinary wartime precautions were observed in last night's camps.

Today's advance is in the direction of Longwy, Brye and Audun, all of which lie close to the frontier. Laborers are repairing the German-built field railways. After crossing what was the advanced zone, the roads improved and the going was fine.

In withdrawing, the Germans abandoned quantities of material, guns and ammunition in accordance with the provisions of the armistice.

At Spincourt, a German officer remained to turn over 42 guns, including two of 18-inch caliber. (This is the largest caliber gun ever mentioned in any dispatches.) He received a receipt.

In the darkness just before dawn yesterday, the first, second, third and fourth divisions, composed of regulars and the Thirty-second (Michigan and Wisconsin) and Forty-second (Rainbow) divisions, started from the positions in which they had encamped on the edge of the American lines. They were preceded by a small vanguard.

East of Verdun, Major X. L. Ewall of Lexington, Va., commanding a battalion of the First division, led his men

PORTER TO WEAR ROCKEFELLER GOLD MEDAL

Tournament at Country Club
Saturday Afternoon Attracted Many Players

Thirty-four golf players were at the golf tournament of the Orange County Country Club Saturday afternoon and reminded the members in attendance of the days before the war when the links were visited by many and good games were the regular order.

The tournament Saturday afternoon was an 18-hole handicap play for a medal offered by John D. Rockefeller to all clubs in the United States which played and gave the entry fees to the United War Workers Fund.

The beautiful medal will dangle from the breast of J. R. Porter of Orange, for he walked off with high score of 86. His handicap was 18, making his net score 68.

Each player gave a dollar for entrance and $34 was added to the fund, which will be credited to subscriptions by Santa Ana.

The winners in the sweepstake were J. R. Porter of Orange, first; Dr. M. A. Patton and Dr. A. W. Flood, both of Santa Ana, second and third, respectively.

WAR WRITER TALKS TO ORANGE COUNTY FIGHTERS IN FRANCE

Ralph Huffman and Carl Danielson Express Opinions,
Vance Wounded

Letters from Harry Williams, the Los Angeles Times correspondent in France, published yesterday and today, include some interesting statements concerning three Orange county men, Sergeant G. L. Vance of Fullerton, Corporal Ralph Huffman of Santa Ana and Sergeant Carl E. Danielson of Balboa. Extracts referring to these men read as follows:

The men had expected hard fighting, and were prepared to take the town, Ecils Fontaine, at the point of the bayonet after entering its shell-torn streets, but were disgusted when the Germans, who had not tin-canned, ran up the white flag after firing a few rounds.

Looked for Fight

"This would be a fairly good war and a bit interesting if the Huns would stand up and fight," declared Corporal Ralph Huffman of Santa Ana, following the fight around Ecils Fontaine. "We came over here figuring the Germans as man-eaters, only to find that they refuse to fight when put on anything like even terms."

"If this war had been fought with brass knuckles, or even bare knuckles, it wouldn't have gone four rounds, let alone four years," said Sergeant G. L. Vance of Fullerton.

who lost part of one lip in this fight. "The British and French would have licked them 'trot sweet' with their mitts, and they haven't produced as many ring champions as America, either."

Looks Unspoiled

Sergeant Vance did not lose enough of his lip to send him to the hospital, or spoil his good looks.

"Some of those birds will fight when chained to a tree or a gun, which makes the getting away bad," said Sergeant Jack Sullivan of San Diego, "but even then most of 'em won't fight any longer than absolutely necessary."

"I heard that 'kamerad' thing so much that I'm plum disgusted," interjected Joe R. Daniel of the same city. "Those Huns started out to make a world war, but seem to have turned it into a sangerfest."

Some of the German snipers were chained in the trees. Sergeant Geo. S. Humphrey, No. 3422 Gramercy place, Los Angeles, and Sergeant Carl E. Danielson of Balboa, told me of seeing a number of these snipers who had been shot dangling head down with a chain around one ankle.

ALLIES' PARADE PLANNED

LONG BEACH, Nov. 18.—The "Allies' Parade," which is scheduled for the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day in this city, will include five divisions of marchers on foot and one division of decorated automobiles, it was stated yesterday. The first organization meeting preparatory to the parade was held by British, Canadian and Allied veterans at Canadian headquarters, 137 Pine avenue.

Consults and vice consults of the Allied nations have received special invitations and a general invitation is issued to peoples of all the Allied governments.

CANNOT RETURN MANY OVERSEAS TROOPS TILL NEW YEAR

Will Take Until January to Complete Demobilization of 1,700,000 In U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—War Department authorities are giving consideration to the second phase of demobilization—return of divisions from abroad.

It is estimated that it will be some time in January before the Government completes its task of freeing the 1,700,000 men in this country. Hence it is doubtful now if any appreciable movement of troops from over there will commence before the work is done. Intimations have been current that the department proposed to bring a few divisions home by Christmas, but General March, thus far has not taken the public into his confidence on this point.

The New England division, mentioned as a possible Christmas present for the nation, is named in unofficial messages as being in the army of occupation. This group, now reported to be ten divisions, may have to be increased later and it is quite likely that the units now engaged therein, will be changed from time to time, just as in battle.

The work of freeing men in this country will be hurried as much as possible.

The demobilization of development battalions, the first task undertaken, is now in progress.

When the Rainbow division comes home it will have to be distributed all over the country because of its character. This national tour idea may be coincident with the "home-coming loan" to be launched early next year, as the fifth war loan.

ARMISTICE TERMS BEING FULFILLED

up to the line at 5:30, presented his orders to the outpost, stepped across the line and ordered "Forward march!" A similar procedure was observed at many other entry points.

The various divisions followed eight main roads toward Luxembourg. The vanguard of the first division occupied Etzat at 6 o'clock. Engineers marked land mines with red flags. German telegraph lines were picked up and within three hours the American division command was installed in former German headquarters. All day long the roads to Luxembourg were crisscrossed with marching troops flying regimental flags. The advance, with clockwork precision, reached the assigned objectives early and the troops went into camp. Thousands of released prisoners on the verge of starvation streamed back into the American camps. They included Russians, Rumanians, Italians, Belgians, French and a few British and Americans.

They were picked up in trucks and sent to the rear. Every detail of the advance was carefully planned. Engineers had painted signs, indicating the towns and the distances between them. As the columns rolled forward, various units dropped out of line, to take up previously assigned positions.

The whole thing is far from spectacular but it is most business-like.

With the exception of those units actually engaged in the advance, the American armies are functioning as usual. Behind the lines the only effect of the armistice has been a slight relaxation of the iron discipline.

Carpenters are finishing barracks which were under construction, the signal corps is still building telegraph and telephone lines and railways are being laid.

Training schools for officers are in session. I saw a tank outfit setting up new machines, while recruits were being drilled to handle tanks in battle formation. Aviators also were trying out new planes and practicing machine gun fire.

The doughboys already are speculating on when they will be sent home.

"When do we go home?" is the question most frequently on the lips of doughboys and officers. They ask it of one another and of every new arrival. Correspondents are besieged with the question.

The next most frequent question is, "who fired the last shot of the war?" Of course, every man at the front claims the distinction. Thousands of men who were in the front lines when the war ended, had not removed their clothes for weeks. Troops from Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska had no opportunity to remove their clothes or bathe for five weeks.

American sanitary officers Saturday were completing the work of renovating Stenay, which was occupied just five minutes before hostilities ceased. Hundreds of doughboys were also busy purging the town of evidences of German occupation, which were abundant. Every street had been given a German name. Main street, for instance, was Kronprinz street. It was insisted the street should be named Wilson or Pershing.

When I was in Stenay Sunday I visited the chateau which the former crown prince occupied during the Verdun offensive. It had been transformed into an American headquarters and an American major was sleeping in the crown prince's room.

French women who acted as caretakers, said Frederick William spent much of his time during the Verdun fighting playing with his dogs in the garden.

FIND NO TRACE OF BRITISH SHIP

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—No trace has been found of the ship Cassepeda, reported by wireless to be foundering off the coast of New Foundland, it was announced at the offices of the Federal line here today. Since the receipt of a radio message at St. John, N. B., from the Cassepeda, stating that the vessel was sinking, the company has failed to trace the steamer. It is believed that she has sunk with her crew of 28 men.

The Cassepeda left New York on Nov. 7. Captain George Williams, of Staten Island, was in command. The vessel made stops at Boston and Halifax and was last heard of proceeding up the north Atlantic. It is not known how many passengers were aboard. The Cassepeda was a vessel of 1,849 gross tons.

RAINFALL RELIEVES CAL. WATER SHORTAGE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—Heavy rainfall throughout California today will immediately relieve the water shortage, according to G. H. Wilson, district weather forecaster.

The storm began late Sunday and at an early hour today 1.24 inches of rain had fallen in San Luis Obispo. San Francisco registered .48 inch. Heavy rain was reported throughout Southern California. No damage has been reported but some said the rice crop which has not yet been harvested, may be injured slightly.

30 CASES OF FLU RELEASED IN 48 HOURS

Number of Patients In City Is Gradually Growing
Less

One death in Santa Ana, eighteen new cases quarantined and thirty released, is the flu record for Santa Ana for the forty-eight hours ending at noon today. The thirty cases were released from twelve houses and the eighteen were quarantined in seven houses, making the ratio of cases to the house about the same—a little less than three.

No new cases were brought to the county hospital, and there were no deaths there during that period. The death in Santa Ana was that of a Mexican residing on Logan street.

Reports to the county physician show that the epidemic is on the decline in all parts of the county, except possibly El Modena, where it appears to be increasing. The report for Saturday and Sunday to the county health officer is as follows:

Yorba Linda, 1; San Joaquin, 1; El Modena, 13; Bolsa, 1; Santa Ana, 1; Capistrano, 12. Seventeen were sent in this morning for the vicinity of Anaheim, but that number comprises the number of new cases for last week.

Charles L. Coones passed away at the White Memorial hospital in Los Angeles this morning. He formerly resided in Santa Ana, and is a brother of P. M. Coones of Orange. His wife died in Los Angeles from influenza last week and was buried in the Santa Ana cemetery. He was seriously ill at the time of her death. He was 27 years of age.

U. S. SUPREME COURT REFUSES TO REVIEW THOS. MOONEY CASE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The Supreme Court today declined to review the case of Thomas Mooney, San Francisco labor leader convicted of murder in connection with the San Francisco preparedness day parade. While the court handed down no formal opinion in the Mooney case, the denial was based on the fact that the court could find no federal question to be involved.

Mooney had based his plea on the fact that the California supreme court refused to go behind the record of the lower court which, it was claimed, convicted on false testimony.

The supreme court denial today means that the California supreme court is sustained. The only recourse that Mooney now has is clemency by the governor of California, who, up to this time, has not acted despite appeals from President Wilson.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—The refusal of the supreme court to review the Mooney case leaves Mooney safe in the hands of Governor Stephens or President Wilson.

Mooney is sentenced to be hanged December 13.

Mooney was reprieved by Governor Stephens until December 13, the governor announcing that he wanted to take the case out of politics so it would not become an issue at the November election.

WET ROAD CAUSE OF INJURY AS MOTOR SPILLS

Floyd Kentch Hurt About Head, Leg Broken, on Seal Beach Road Last Eve.

A wet spot on the Seal Beach road, where the highway turns this side of the hill, which appeared to have been caused by someone throwing a bucket of water on the pavement, last evening shortly after 7 o'clock caused a serious accident, when a motorcycle hit the wet road and skidded. Floyd Kentch of 716 Cypress avenue and an employee of the Santa Ana Hardware Company, who was riding the motorcycle, was thrown heavily against the pavement and he was rendered unconscious, with serious injuries about the head. There was every indication that his right leg was broken just above the angle, and an X-ray today was expected to show the extent of the fracture.

Two boys, passing the scene, stopped and assisted the injured young man to sit up, and hailed J. R. Gardner, city treasurer of Fullerton, who, with his wife and children, were returning home from Long Beach. The Gardners put Kentch in their car and brought him home, remaining for some time to assist in caring for him. They said the wet spot had caused their car and others to skid, as it was directly on the turn of the road.

This morning Kentch was reported as improved and remembered seeing the wet stretch of road which caused the crash.

His father, Noel L. Kentch, is employed at Hill's market.

FOUR SLIGHTLY INJURED WHEN CAR TURNED OVER

The lives of four Los Angeles people were imperiled Saturday evening when a Ford car in which they were riding turned over on the state highway just north of the county hospital. The occupants were Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Stauffer and Mr. and Mrs. Max Knickerbocker. All were taken to the Santa Ana hospital for attention, their injuries being superficial wounds about the head and body. Mr. Stauffer suffered an ugly glass cut on the left side of the head, and was the most seriously hurt.

The party was driving south when an approaching car in the hands of what they believe to have been a drunken driver crowded their car off the road. It went into the sand by the side of the boulevard near the S. P. crossings of the state highway and turned over. The windshield was broken into small pieces, the top was wrecked and the front axle damaged.

All but Mr. Stauffer were able to return to Los Angeles Saturday evening. Stauffer remained to take care of the car. He drove it into Santa Ana and when he started to drive it back to Los Angeles Sunday morning the right front wheel caved in when it struck the street car track on North Main street, just north of Washington avenue. Repairs were made in Santa Ana.

MAN ARRESTED HAS BURGLAR'S WORK TOOLS

Sunday morning about 1:15 o'clock, Policemen Rogers and Neuswanger grabbed a man who might have pried his way into a store before morning had not the policemen shrewdly and quickly followed out their suspicions. They have landed a man who evidently had plans afoot, and who is being looked up by the fingerprint system to see if he has a record.

The man gives his name as Adolph Schmitts. He says his mother was Mexican and that he was born and raised in Mexico and came to this country only a few months ago. He was first spied as he came walking out of the alley behind the California National Bank with a laprobe under his arm. The officers took him in tow and heard his tale to the effect that he had taken the laprobe with him to a picture show to keep himself warm. The tale had no effect. The man bluffed and protested, but to no avail. They went with the man to a rooming house, where it was found he had taken a room that evening.

Schmitts tried to elude the officers, but their vigilance prevented him from getting rid of tell-tale evidence. They took from him a choice list of articles, including a 45-Colt, a glass cutter, a razor, a jimmy, a pair of pliers and a flashlight. In his suitcase was but one article, twenty feet of cotton rope.

Policeman Rogers is fully satisfied that Schmitts would have been into mischief before morning. The officer says the glass cutter is the best he ever saw.

The robe found in the man's possession has been identified as one stolen from E. F. Roberts' automobile. A warrant has been issued charging Schmitts with petty larceny.

THREE WOUND STRIPES DECORATE SANTA ANAN

Carl Burns of Co. M, 59th Inf., is wearing three wound stripes, one for a flesh wound in the leg from a machine gun bullet, another for being gassed and the third for three flesh wounds from flying shrapnel. A letter written on Oct. 15 has been received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Burns, saying: "I am working under cover till I get my strength back. I lost thirty-eight pounds after the Chateau Thierry battle, but am working it back again."

In a previous letter telling of wounds received between July 18 and Aug. 3, Burns wrote:

"A machine gun bullet caused a flesh wound on my leg. I got three flesh wounds from flying shrapnel on my left side and I was unconscious from being gassed. Beside that I am all right. When I saw one of our boys fall right beside me I would say to myself, 'well, my turn next,' but it never came. Our division was cited for bravery, so you see we were not in the rear during the drive. One of our objectives that we reached on the front was shelled pretty heavily and during the shelling a man was wounded pretty badly and the lieutenant called for some one in the company to bring a stretcher, and a little chap on my right went up all by himself and put the boy on the stretcher and then hollered to me, 'Burns, help carry him off.' Well, I almost fainted to think of leaving the hole which I was in and going out to be exposed to shell fire, but I just knew it was my duty, so I said 'all right,' but I also said, 'help me God,' and then went up. I can't describe those shells, bursting on all sides and every once in a while a high explosive shell, but we got the boy to the dressing station and went back again when a high explosive came over and lit right to the side of us, and part of it protruded about four inches out of the ground and I was just paralyzed, waiting for it to go off—but nix—she never did."

SEVEN MILLIONS PAID UTAH BEET GROWERS

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 18.—Nearly $7,000,000 has just been paid to beet growers throughout the intermountain country by sugar-manufacturing companies. Farmers received their checks for the first month's deliveries of beets to twenty-two factories in this region.

One company, the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company of this city, paid out $3,540,000 at its eleven plants, located in Utah, Idaho and Washington.

The Amalgamated Sugar Company of Ogden on the same day sent out checks aggregating $2,600,000.

Four other Utah companies, each operating one plant, made payments of $1,000,000 on the same day.

The beets paid for represent about one-half of the 1918 crop, it is said. A second and final payment will be made about December 10.

The total output of the twenty-two factories, it is estimated, will be about 3,000,000 sacks of sugar, with a value, according to prevailing prices, of about $30,000,000. The beet tonnage for Utah, Idaho and Washington is estimated at 1,200,000 tons.

MOTHER COLONY FACTORY WILL BE ENLARGED

Marmalade Plant Will Be Increased to 25,000 Pounds Daily Capacity

ANAHEIM, Nov. 18.—Work will start immediately on the erection of an addition to the Anaheim plant of the Crawford marmalade factory which will increase its capacity to 25,000 pounds of finished product daily, it is stated by Manager Thomas Crawford.

This addition, Mr. Crawford said, will bring the capacity of the local plant up to that of the San Dimas plant which was built this summer. The combined output of the two plants will be 50,000 pounds every twenty-four hours.

The general offices of the concern which will be known in a very short time as the Exchange Orange Products Company, will be moved to the Consolidated Realty building in Los Angeles next week. Mr. Crawford will continue in the capacity of general manager and the entire office staff from the local office will be transferred to Los Angeles.

Increase Capital Stock

Steps are being taken to increase the capital stock of the corporation from $100,000 to $200,000. The absorption of the Crawford Marmalade Corporation by the California Fruit Growers' Exchange brings the products of the concern directly under the selling plan of the exchange and the product after December 1st will be marketed under the famous "Sunkist" label and a national advertising campaign of full page advertisements in full color in such magazines as the Ladies Home Journal and the Saturday Evening Post will be started March 1st.

Factories Now Closed

The local plant and also the San Dimas plant have been shut down temporarily owing to the lack of fruit which is very scarce at this time of the year. The plants have been running under greatly reduced capacity for the past few months for the same reason. A large amount of fruit has been secured from other districts and it is the plan to start up the local plant again next week. The San Dimas plant has been completed and running for several months but has not been run to its full capacity as sufficient fruit has not been available but this condition is not expected to exist during the coming season as contracts for ample fruit have been secured and the problem of raw material has been eliminated. As soon as the fruit season comes into full swing it is expected that the two factories will be kept running at full capacity.

The introduction of the marmalade industry by Mr. Crawford has entirely solved the problem of disposing of the cull fruit and instead of being a drag on the market it is now greatly in demand, and is a source of handsome monetary returns for the growers.

The local board had mailed about 60 per cent of the questionnaires for men 37 and over. Many of these have been filled out and returned. All the rest should be put into the return envelope and sent back at once, whether signed or unsigned.

Questionnaires sent to any person under 37 must be filled out just as though war was still on.

GASSED, ELLS SAYS THAT HIS INJURY NOT SERIOUS

Arthur Ells, deputy sheriff at the time he went to Camp Lewis in September, 1917, was gassed early in the Argonne Forest fighting. His wife has received a letter from him dated October 2, stating that he was in a hospital and was getting along well.

Sergeant Ells was selected for sniper duty, his Camp Lewis record showing him to be the best shot in the 363rd Infantry. So far as can be learned, he went into action on the morning of September 26th, if not before. His letter to Mrs. Ells does not go into any details of his experiences, and does not give the nature of his wound by gas. He said that he hoped to be able to join his company soon.

"STILL WATERS RUN DEEP"

This homely phrase is as true today as it ever was—and especially applicable to modern merchandising.

In these days when so many exaggerated and impossible claims are made in advertising—we are reminded that the public is infallible in detecting the true ring from the false—that public opinion coined this expressive phrase—

—"Still Waters run deep"

—A phrase deeply significant of stability, integrity and confidence.

It has always been the policy of this store to be conservative in every public utterance—in other words to tell the plain and simple truth in every line of advertising appearing above the name of "Rankin."

And this line of truth and integrity you will find permeating the very warp and woof of this business—

Integrity in Merchandise

Integrity in Representation

Integrity in Value.

NATIONAL DRY VICTORY

It is only a matter of months, and a very few months, until the national prohibition amendment is ratified by the necessary thirty-six states of the Union. The California Anti-Saloon League has issued a statement in which it reviews the situation fully.

On the fifth of the month, four states—Ohio, Nevada, Wyoming and Florida—voted out the liquor traffic. This makes thirty-two states which have adopted state-wide prohibition.

In addition to these thirty-two states, five so-called wet states—Kentucky, Maryland, Delaware, Massachusetts and Louisiana—have ratified the national prohibition amendment.

Thus, thirty-seven states of the Union have either adopted state-wide prohibition or have ratified the national prohibition amendment.

This leaves only eleven states that have neither adopted prohibition nor ratified the amendment. These eleven states are California, Connecticut, Illinois, Minnesota, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont and Wisconsin.

Of these eleven states at least two, California and Vermont, have elected legislatures that will vote to ratify the national prohibition amendment. In addition to these, two reports from Missouri and New Jersey indicate that those two states will also ratify, while Minnesota is reported to have elected a pro-ratification legislature, and came so near to adopting state-wide prohibition this year that it was for days reported in the prohibition column. Returns from the other six states have not been received at this office, so we are not prepared to say just how wobbly the wets are in the six states that remain to them.

But inasmuch as the wets, to defeat prohibition, must block ratification in at least thirteen states, without further information from the six states yet to be heard from, it is quite evident that Mr. Hilliard Welch, the gentleman whom the California wine-men sent to Washington to fight prohibition, was correct in his report to his clients when he said that the "most pessimistic among the liquor element believe that the Sheppard national prohibition amendment will have been ratified by the necessary thirty-six states by next February," while "the most optimistic believe that it will not be ratified until next May."

The legislatures of all the states, with the exception of those which have already ratified, convene early in January. Indications are that the most pessimistic of liquor men are justified in their opinion that ratification by the necessary thirty-six states will have been accomplished by February. At any rate, the dries are justified in their contention that ratification by the necessary thirty-six states is as certain as anything political can be certain.

WILHELM'S EXIT

It cannot be said that the last of the Hohenzollerns made an impressive exit. From anybody who had played so conspicuous a role in the biggest of international dramas we should have expected something more—that is, from anybody but Wilhelm.

A really great man should be great even in renouncing his greatness. We should expect some noble word, some final proof of courage and manhood, some intelligent appreciation of the fact that his work, whether good or ill, is done, and that the stage must be set for a new drama, with new actors.

There are many historical characters who have set Wilhelm a good example. Napoleon was still Napoleon, even when surrendering his sword and facing St. Helena. To every big man capable of real comprehension there must come, at the end, some such insight as that which Tennyson lends to King Arthur:

"The old order changeth, yielding place to new;
"And God fulfills himself in many ways,
"Lest one good custom should corrupt the world."

Even if Wilhelm sincerely believed in the worth of German kultur and militarism and kaiserism, he might have come to that—if he had been really big.

Instead, we find this mighty kaiser, who had just declared grandiloquently that he "would never desert his sorely tried people," sneaking away like a thief at night, with his money and his stores of food, reading "with a shiver" a final note of advice from the revolutionary leader Scheidemann, then signing his abdication paper with a trembling hand, and opening his mouth only to snarl sarcastically, "It may be for the good of Germany."

Lacks Hold on Hearts

(Pasadena Star-News)

There is no weeping and mourning in Germany today that the house of Hohenzollern has fallen, that the head of that dynasty—the former kaiser—is a miserable exile. They jeer ribaldly at the fleeing royalists. News of abdication was received with enthusiasm by German soldiers. Hundreds who had been decorated with the iron cross by the fugitive emperor in the days of his might have torn the harsh metal from them and flung it away or given it to children as a worthless bauble. It has no sentimental value for them. They hate the kaiser who bestowed the medals and the kaiserism responsible for the war.

Herein lies the key to the reason of Germany's swift and utter collapse. Kaiserism had no firm lodgement in the affections of the German army and the German people. Prussian militarism bestialized the men who came under its iron discipline. They could and would fight like formidable machines, in the days of their might. But they became heartless, unwieldy automatons in the days of stress, distress and defeat. There was no grip upon their soul, holding them securely anchored to the cause and system for which they fought. They could not and would not stand steadfast in adversity. They had no thrill of soul to impel them to fight to the last ditch for a glorious cause. They felt, through and through, that their cause was inglorious, that their methods had been brutal and outrageous, that they did not deserve to win the war. Hence the moral weakness which developed into utter shattering of morale of the German armies and the German people.

CITRUS MARKET WEEKLY REVIEW

Following is the week's citrus review as issued by the Los Angeles office of the Fruit World:

The movement of new crop navel from Tulare county has not come up to early expectations and is being delayed by rainfall. Rain has been sufficient to stop picking. The cool nights have been coloring up the oranges. Tests are showing as high as 13 and 14 to 1.

Latest estimates place the navel crop of Central California at between 1500 and 1600 cars. The Valencia crop will probably total close to 1200 cars. Cash prices on Central California navels are on a basis of 25¢ for cars running 150 boxes 126s and larger, and 26¢ for cars having 20 per cent 126s and larger, shipment next week. F.O.B. quotations, usual terms, range from $6.50 to $7.50, according to sizes.

Florida shippers are placing cars in Seattle, Portland, Trinidad, Colo.; El Paso, Tex., and up into Calgary. The Florida market dropped $1 per box. Cars now rolling are reported offered at $3.50 F.O.B. shipping point. Floridas are heavy in decay. Boston reports as high as 12 per cent and El Paso as high as 30 per cent.

Prices received on sales of Porto Rico oranges continue to favor buyers; the ruling prices follow: 90s, $2.55@2.75; 126s, $3.10@4.25; 150s, $3.50@4.55; 176s, $4.15@4.85; 200s, $4.10@4.98; 216s, $2.80@4.45; 250s, $2.80@4.10. Arrivals of Jamaica oranges in the United States are light.

No new crop navels have been offered in the auction markets so far. The first car in the New York auction last year was the Unabest brand, averaging $4.70, and the Unagood, $4.25. So far this season a total of 59 cars oranges have been shipped from Central California as compared with two cars to the corresponding date last season. Northern California reports but two cars shipped to date.

There is very little activity in Southern California packing houses. Redlands shippers do not expect to move any fruit before the first of December. Pattee & Lett have picked some navels in the Riverside district which are now being sweeted.

Orange county will probably move some fruit along the latter part of November. Duarte fruit is said to be coloring up in splendid shape. Similar reports are also being received from groves in various districts, but on the whole it is a little too early to look for much satisfactory shipping fruit.

The Southern navel crop is expected to run about 60 per cent of the 1916-1917 output which totaled 28,095 cars of 400 boxes each, thus placing the present crop of Southern California navels at about 16,857 cars.

There is no established working basis on lemon prices at this time. Railroad congestion east of Chicago has delayed arrival. California's lemon crop will total close to 10,000 cars this season. The greatest total consumption of lemons (both California and foreign) in the United States during any year for the past ten years has not exceeded 11,500 cars. California can supply the entire wants of the country for lemons.

ALL QUIET WHERE HOT FIGHT RAGED

Landscape Cut With Trenches and Pitted With Shellholes; Desolation Described

By WEBB MILLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMIES
IN FRANCE, Nov. 12. (Delayed.)—With Lieut. Jimmy Meissner of Brooklyn, premier American ace, I flew this afternoon over the furthestmost American lines east of Verdun.

At the height of only twenty to fifty feet, we skimmed along the line where the American driver had voluntarily halted. As we swooped down over the heads of the doughboys, they paused in their work of building temporary shelters and repairing roads, to wave their hands and yell greetings.

With the exception of this work, the lines presented a strange scene of inactivity. In tiny ruined villages which were taken just before the armistice became effective, crowds were sitting in the sunshine. In one field, within a few yards of the line a group was playing baseball—apparently "one old cat."

About 200 yards away fourteen Germans stood at the edge of a wood, curiously watching the antics of the erstwhile "Amerikaner schwein."

We circled over the ball game several times. The Germans waved their hands.

Near Fresnes, in the front line, was a blown up bridge. On the American side stood a single doughboy talking to a German opposite. Both waved their hands and pointed toward the airplane.

We saw groups walking about in the open. In one place, in the middle of a soggy, shell-shattered field, a card or crap game was going on, while other men were digging a dugout. At another place the line ran through a little valley. Not a soul was in sight, but a small American flag was stuck in the ground to indicate the front line.

At most points along the line we traversed only a few Germans were visible. These evidently were privates. They were lounging in villages and along the roads, smoking and talking. Almost all of them waved a greeting at us. None carried a gun or equipment of any kind. So far as we could see, no artillery or material remained.

At one point, several miles in the rear of the German lines, we glimpsed a number of trucks hurrying toward Confans. Farther back we saw huge fires smudging the sky with columns of black smoke.

From one place we counted eight fires in the direction of Confans, while over the region of Pinehuille we saw a great column of fire and white smoke shoot up and drift away with the wind.

In little hamlets just behind the German lines, German soldiers were sitting in the sunshine, but no horses, trucks or other means of transportation were visible.

At one place a burial party was digging three graves on a knoll overlooking the lines. At the foot of the hill a unit was evidently preparing for inspection. All its equipment was neatly laid out in rows.

For several miles in one region we flew over a section that was pockmarked with shell holes that were literally rim to rim. There were clusters of farm houses which were mere heaps of stone. The whole region was a scene of unutterable desolation. The roads were cut up and there were smashed trucks and gun carriages in the ditches. Lying in the mud were dead horses, their legs sticking up at grotesque angles. A thousand and one different kinds of war materials were lying where they had been abandoned.

We looked down on three villages which were almost unbelievably shattered. Not a living thing was visible in them. Close by the lines was a forty-acre wood. Every limb was stripped from the trees and the trunks were mangled. The whole landscape was criss-crossed with freshly made zig-zagged trenches. We saw two deserted German strong points on a hill. They were circular affairs, ringed with many lines of barbed wire and with sunken concrete pillboxes in the center. The entire field was churned up with shell holes, while lines of wire were smashed flat.

Turning back from the lines we circled over Verdun. The streets were alive with activity. But the only bit of color in the famous ruined French city was a tri-color on the spire of the cathedral.

From Verdun we climbed to an altitude of 2000 feet. As we made our way back to the hangar, we saw dozens of tiny, winding ribbons of road filled with lines of motor trucks, carrying up supplies to the dormant war machines.

HIGH TRIBUTE PAID CAPTAIN HOLDERMAN BY HIS COMMANDER

A high tribute is paid Captain Nelson M. Holderman of Santa Ana while a member of the "Lost Battalion" by Lieutenant Colonel Charles W. Whittlesey, commander of the unit, who reached the United States last week. It was Colonel (then Major) Whittlesey's "go to hell" reply to the German request for his surrender which featured the exploit of the battalion.

A telegram was received today by Mrs. Holderman from Whittlesey, in which he says: "Captain N. M. Holderman was with my battalion in the Argonne and acted magnificently. He was slightly wounded but has completely recovered. I had a letter from him just before I left France."

This message comes from Pittsburg, Mass., where Colonel Whittlesey is now visiting.

Mrs. Holderman has also received a cablegram from her husband, dated November 5, in which he said he was slightly wounded but is now recovered.

5 DEAD, SCORE HURT IN NIGHT OF RIOTS

WINSTON SALEM, N. C., Nov. 18.—Five known dead and a score or more injured, five of them seriously, was the toll early today, following a night of rioting resulting from an attempted lynching. Troops rushed here shortly after midnight, apparently have the situation well in hand.

Police believe others may have been killed. Firing continued up to an early hour today, efforts of the home guard and police to restore order being unavailing prior to the arrival of the troops.

The mob formed Sunday afternoon and stormed the jail, seeking a negro charged with shooting J. E. Childress and Sheriff Flint, and attacking Mrs. Childress. After difficulty, the police drove the mob out of the jail after the negro sought had been seriously wounded. Home guards were then ordered out. Later a report circulated that the negro shot was not the man wanted and by nightfall the mob reformed and marched on the jail.

Fire companies turned the hose on the rioters. Firing followed.

The mob quickly overpowered the guard and again forced entrance to the jail. After an hour the mob left, apparently not finding the negro. Rioters then scattered over the city, breaking up into small groups.

CASUALTY LISTS MAY BE ISSUED WEEKS YET

Government casualty lists will continue to be printed for some time—perhaps weeks—despite the fact that the war is practically ended with the signing of the armistice November 11. The reason for this is found in the fact that the collection of names of the killed, wounded, etc., is a painstaking task by the army authorities in France—a task in which nothing is left to chance of guess-work. Naturally this takes much time, but the list of names, when finally announced, from day to day, is as accurate as humanly possible.

WHAT YANKS WANT FOR CHRISTMAS PRESENTS

Santa Anans who are packing those precious Christmas boxes to be sent to your soldier lads overseas, regard this pertinent bit of advice from a returned soldier. He gives you some ideas regarding the kind of things which the boys will want to find in those boxes. He says:

"Don't send neckties, or handkerchiefs, or anything of that sort—the boys will use them only to clean their guns. Send sugar and candies—hard candy, wrapped caramels, sweet chocolate—all the candy that you can, of the kind that won't crush. Send snapshots, picture postcards, of the dog, or the house, or Jimmy in his new suit, or anything else than can be photographed. And if you want something special for the bottom of the box, it's a good idea to slip in a dollar bill or two."

WAR OVER, EVERYONE READY TO START HOME

With peace, everyone in the big army camp at Waco, Tex., was ready to start for home. Among those who did start home with discharges were Logan Jackson of Orange, F. W. They arrived in officers' training camp on November 8 and hardly had a look around and a shot in the arm when two battalions of men training for officers were discharged. One battalion that lacked only a week or two of graduation was retained to finish the course.

"Peace took the pep out of training," said Chapman. "We could see the men let down. They had been up on their toes going full tilt."

NEWS IN BRIEF FORM

E. J. Levensgood of Pomona, formerly a horseman of Santa Ana, has received more detailed information regarding the death of his brother, Sergt. Clark W. Levensgood, who died at Kelly Field on November 4. The first news contained only the simple statement that the soldier was dead. Now it is learned that death was caused by pneumonia. The body is being sent to a brother in Jackson, Mich.

Charles Linebarger, a well known business man here for many years, was a visitor in Fullerton Saturday. He has been ranching in the north for some time but has moved his family back to Los Angeles for the present, but may locate in Fullerton again soon. He has been away three years and says there have been many improvements in and around Fullerton during the past few years.

Edward Thurman has returned to his home at Buena Park from the Fullerton general hospital where he was taken Sunday evening after being injured by an auto striking him.

Emil Heinrich, better known as "Joe," son of Mr. and Mrs. Erdman Heinrich, died at the Anaheim sanitarium Friday night of pneumonia, after an illness of only a few days. He was 39 years of age and moved to Anaheim with his parents 28 years ago and leaves besides his parents, several brothers and sisters.

Captain F. H. Thibodo has been "on his way" several times since he left Placentia, but is not yet on his way to France. He was in San Francisco last week, having crossed the continent in charge of a special train carrying wounded soldiers to a hospital in that city, and returned at once to New York. All of the men received their injuries on the battlefield and have been sent to this coast to complete their recovery.

Mrs. C. J. Houston of Seal Beach has received a telegram stating that her brother was killed in action while fighting with the American army in France.

Victor Hewett, who was called to the colors in August and has been located at Camp Lewis, returned home to Newport Beach last week. Victor says he failed to pass the examination for overseas duties on account of his heart and was discharged from the service before leaving camp.

There is a strong possibility that the Newport Beach glass plant will be re-opened and the manufacture of glass resumed, if the plans of the men who are contemplating the move materialize. The location and facilities offered have been inspected, and the promoters are well pleased with the general appearance of things, although they have not yet reached a decision in regard to locating here.

Thomas Fitch, for the last eight years editorial writer on the Los Angeles Times and preceding that a successful corporation attorney at Phoenix and other cities in Arizona, likes Anaheim so well after two months' stay that he has decided to remain. He will practice law, and has hung out his shingle in the First National Bank building.

O. A. Mullinix of Anaheim has purchased a 9-acre Valencia grove, seven-year-old trees, of G. D. Wilson at Villa Park. Mullinix will continue to make his residence in Anaheim.

Roy Webber surprised his mother at Yorba Linda recently by arriving from the east, bringing a charming bride with him. They made the trip by auto and enjoyed it immensely. Mrs. Roy Webber has contracted the influenza since their arrival and is quite ill. Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Webber are also spending a few days with Mr. Webber's mother.

J. N. Harper and wife and the latter's mother, Mrs. K. O. Guldge, of Little Rock, Ark., have arrived here to make their home. Harper and I. B. Franklin are brothers-in-law. Mr. Franklin and family came to Santa Ana about a year ago, and their relatives have followed them. The arrival of the two families is due directly to good missionary work which W. J. Julien did in the East when on a trip a little over a year ago. He took some Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce literature with him and spread it among his relatives and friends, and this with his individual boost for this locality was effective. "And they are still coming with more to follow," said Julian today in telling of the arrival of the Harper family.

Under date of October 18, Alfred Bittner of Anaheim writes from France that he had just emerged from a battle that had lasted nine days and nights, and all things considered he was feeling well. He says it certainly makes one feel queer to be in the thick of a battle with shells falling all around, and adds that he will have a great deal to tell his friends when he returns. His impression of France is that it is "muddy France instead of sunny France."

Protection work along the Santa Ana river is rapidly nearing completion, not only on this side, but along the west bank, says the Garden Grove News. On the west side the Anaheim-Garden Grove district has completed its levy above the Southern Pacific Tustin branch bridge and his finished a portion of its fencing. Property in that district was assessed $3.00 an acre for the improvement.

CARD OF

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL NEWS NOTES FROM ORANGE CITY

ORANGE, Nov. 18.—Mrs. J. R. Porter, who has so faithfully performed her duties as chairman of the local Red Cross auxiliary, was unanimously elected for another term at the annual business meeting of the Red Cross held in the Woman's Club rooms. Mrs. Porter's work has taken a great amount of time and energy and she has willingly given both. Her work has been so successful and so competent that she was urged to accept re-election. This would be a most critical time to make a change in the head of the Red Cross work so Mrs. Porter agreed to "remain at the helm."

Mrs. F. E. Weldemann was elected vice-chairman and Mrs. Alfred Higgins, secretary.

The First National Bank was elected treasurer.

Officers for the different departments for the coming year will be: vice commandant of the Orange-Fullerton canteen, Mrs. J. F. Keller; chairman of the civilian relief committee, Mrs. A. A. Bennett; head of the sewing department, Mrs. W. S. Ensign; head of the knitting department, Mrs. E. B. Adams and Mrs. W. Bathgate; head of the surgical dressing department, Mrs. A. A. Bennett.

F. C. Drumm, W. R. Garrett, Dr. J. C. Crawford and Dr. A. H. Doman are on the Civilian Relief staff.

During the meeting, Mrs. J. F. Keller, who has charge of the canteen, told of how and why the Orange County Canteen was organized. The expenses of the canteen have so far been met by Los Angeles, excepting a number of local donations. The canteen work is done by Anaheim, Fullerton and Orange. The canteen was organized August 31, 1918, and since that time has given the regular canteen service to 2134 men and served a hot meal to 298 men. They also were in charge of several meals served to workers for the Liberty Loan drive. The service consists of gum, sweet chocolate, cigarettes, matches, post-cards and fruit.

Mrs. H. T. Thomson spoke of the department for civilian relief. This department is sending a soldier, discharged on account of illness, to a sanitarium. They are giving an allowance to a soldier's wife, who has been in need, and have also helped out a family suffering from influenza.

On January 1st a "sock roll" was started. Each knitter was to keep track on this roll of the number of pairs of socks they had knitted. The roll is rather incomplete, but bears the following: Mrs. J. D. Hunton, 104 pairs; Mrs. G. E. Osmun, 93 pairs; Mrs. Lau, 81 pairs; Mrs. A. A. Evans, 75 pairs; Mrs. Northcross, 63 pairs; Mrs. E. T. Lee, 68 pairs; Mrs. Flint, 44 pairs; Mrs. Syester, 36 pairs. Mrs. E. B. Adams and Mrs. Wm. Bathgate have long lost track of the numbers of socks they have repaired.

Miss Ruth Smith, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Ora Smith, entertained a group of friends at dinner Friday evening. Her guests were Miss Cecil Coltrane, Miss Myrtle Plack, Herbert Salveson and Harry Smith of Fullerton. After dinner the party motored to Fullerton, where they attended a motion picture show. After this they returned to the Smith home, where the remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent playing cards. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. John Gallentine, former resident of Orange, passed away November 6 at her home in Giltner, Nebraska, according to word received by her friends here. Mrs. Gallentine leaves a husband, two sons and one daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Gallentine wintered in Orange six or seven years ago. She was well known to a number of former Giltner people in this city.

Mrs. Argus Dean and baby daughter arrived here Friday from Louisville, Kentucky, to visit at the home of Mrs. Dean's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Pixley. Mrs. Dean was formerly Miss Alma Pixley.

John Miller of El Modena has sold his property there to Chris Sante of Villa Park. The Miller family will take a trip north and on their return will build again.

August Dushin left Saturday afternoon for Camp Travis, San Antonio, Texas, where he was called by the serious illness of his son, Henry Dushin, who is suffering from pneumonia.

A nine-pound baby son was born Saturday morning to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Feeler of 284 North Cleveland street. Mr. Feeler is the high school coach.

NOV. 20 TO FEB. 20 WATCHFUL PERIOD FOR CITRUS FOLKS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 16.—"Prepare!" This is the advice given to Southern California's citrus growers by Dr. Ford Ashman Carpenter, federal meteorologist, last night.

For the first time in the history of the local weather office, Dr. Carpenter issued a forecast of weather for the winter months, based on charts drawn from the findings of forty years. He said:

"It is time for cultivators of citrus fruits to get out their smudge pots."

"This year's harvest doubtless will be the most valuable in Southern California's history, due to unprecedented high prices."

"Within the next fortnight smudge pots should be dusted and repaired. We may expect frost in exposed localities before Thanksgiving."

"The danger period is near and Southern California's wonder crop of fruits must be protected," said Carpenter. "It is estimated that this year's yield will be 12,843,600 boxes of oranges alone. They have been selling for $7 to $8 a box, and in New York the demand is so great that the fruit pays as high as $18 and $20. Experts say the big crop of lemons of two years ago may be exceeded. Cultivators expect a bumper crop. The fortunes of hundreds are tied up in their fruits."

"From November 20 to February 20 is the 'watchful period' for Southern California growers. 'Stand by!' should be the word all along the line. The peak of the cold curve will be reached the last of December and the first of January. But if frost attacks the groves early the fruit has less chance of surviving because of its youth."

4573 CARS AT POMONA

POMONA, Nov. 18.—According to the estimates of the Government statisticians, Pomona valley will produce this season 4573 cars of citrus fruit, which is only a little less than was shipped two years ago, the figure at that time being 5000 cars. With the market undoubtedly good for the entire season, citrus men are feeling jubilant. Practically all the fruit of the country is gone and prices are bound to be high.

GRAND JURY'S SELECTED BY COURT TODAY

This afternoon the new grand jury was selected in Judge Thomas' court. L. H. Wallace of Newport Beach was appointed foreman. The nineteen men selected as grand jurors are:

L. H. Wallace, Newport Beach; W. Dean Johnston, Westminster; E. E. Jahraus, Laguna Beach; E. E. French, Huntington Beach; H. H. Hale, Placentia; Carl A. Seamans, Yorba Linda; G. D. Toothacher, Orange; Hugh M. Day, Tustin; H. H. Reeves, A. B. Gardner, Mt. Phillips; E. E. Cooley, F. J. Adams, Santa Ana; Chas. E. Jones, Anaheim; J. W. Nelson, Charles Gammill, A. C. Mosher, H. M. Palmer and A. G. Mitchell.

Charge to Jury
In his charge to the grand jury Judge Thomas first reviewed the legal reasons for a grand jury, and set forth the limitations of a grand jury's duties. He pointed out that a grand jury has no more rights than the ordinary citizen to make unjust criticism, and the fact that a man is on the grand jury does not release that man or the grand jury itself from action for slander or libel. Criticisms must be confined to the absolute facts in the case.

"If facts for criticism exist," said Judge Thomas, "you have before you sufficient grounds either to accuse or to indict. As you know the criticisms of some grand juries have been used to cast slurs and suspicion on men and women in public office, and indeed in some remote cases the grand juries have gone so far as to make unjust and unreasonable criticism of such officers for the sole purpose of furnishing plunder for some future political campaign. I do not possess a sufficiently strong vocabulary to damn such conduct as I would like, in any person or aggregation of persons, by whatever name known. The dignity of the grand jury is such that it should, when it does not mean to indict or accuse, maintain an official silence."

"The great world war has, with many other blessings that none could foresee at the beginning thereof, brought to us of America, and impressed upon us in a way not likely to be soon forgotten, the virtues of thrift and economy. Speaking therefore from the viewpoint of economy on my part, I have long since come to the conclusion that many thousands of dollars could be saved annually to the taxpayers of this state were it not mandatory to call the grand jury at least once a year, as I have already instructed you must be done."

The judge said he favored a system by which a grand jury would be called only when a judge, the board of supervisors or twenty-five citizens deemed it advisable. He said that he considered the pay, $2 a day, grossly inadequate and unjust, and he thought it a shame to take busy men away from their business affairs for the routine work of a grand jury.

"That there are now, probably, and have been in the past, district attorneys in some counties of this state who have failed, neglected and indeed even refused to perform their legal and sworn duty, may be admitted," said he, "yet this fact in a few counties of the state ought not to militate against all the balance of the counties, and almost all of which have yet to experience for the first time anything that even leans towards a scandal."

"Orange county from the very beginning has been blessed, as I believe, always with honest and competent officials. Never, so far as I am aware, has there been an official scandal here."

Col. Roosevelt is very anxious to visit France and will leave at the first opportunity, Miss Stryker said.

TIRE THEFTS CONTINUE
PORTERVILLE, Nov. 18.—Automobile tire thieves, who have been particularly active during the period when such high prices were being paid for rubber, have varied their technique and are now removing wheels, with tires attached, from such machines as are left unguarded in out-of-the-way places.

Report of several such thefts has been made to the officers. Most of the thefts have been made from cars standing at the curbs in the outlying residence districts.

FLU DEATHS, 82,306;
WAR DEATHS, 45,000
WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The epidemic of influenza in the United States caused more deaths than occurred among the American expeditionary forces from all causes from the time the first unit landed in France until hostilities ceased.

This announcement by the census bureau was based on unofficial estimates of the total casualties among the overseas forces and reports from forty-six cities having a combined population of 23,000,000, which showed 82,206 deaths from influenza and pneumonia from September 9 to November 9.

"Total casualties in the American expeditionary forces," said the announcement, "have recently been officially estimated at 100,000. On the basis of the number thus far reported, it may be assumed that the deaths from all causes, including disease and accidents, are probably less than 45 per cent, and may not be more than 40 per cent of the total casualties. On this assumption the loss of life in the American expeditionary forces to date is about 40,000 or 45,000."

The total of deaths due to the influenza epidemic in this country is not known, the announcement said, as only the forty-six cities for which figures were given report vital statistics to the census bureau. The greatest mortality due to the epidemic in proportion to population was 7.4 per 1000 in Philadelphia and the next greatest 6.7 per 1000 was reported from Baltimore.

Another rain storm, more or less unexpected, put in its appearance here in the early hours of this morning and by 7 o'clock had dropped .98 of an inch of moisture in this city. It was a real storm while it lasted, the rain coming down in torrents and the recorded precipitation falling in three or four hours.

The weather cleared slightly this morning, with the sun shining at intervals and light showers intermingling.

Orange and Jacobs' ranch on the San Joaquin seemed to have fared better than any other of the sections from which reports were obtained.

FOR SELECTION ON STATE WATER BOARD

Riley of San Bernardino and Flaherty of Riverside
Among Applicants

Attorney J. C. Burke, former assemblyman, is being considered as a probability for appointment as a member of the State Water Commission. Burke's experiences in state matters through two terms service at the legislature and his close association with the campaign for the reelection of Gov. Stephens undoubtedly makes him a formidable candidate for appointment.

It is a well known fact that Gov. Stephens is going to make a good many changes in state commissions as vacancies arise. Among those looking for appointments are R. L. Riley of Colton, a San Bernardino county supervisor, who wants to be a railroad commissioner, and P. T. Flaherty, a Riverside county supervisor, who seeks a place on the State Board of Control.

No Mexican Students Report at School For Them at Washington

The Santa Ana schools opened this morning after a vacation of four weeks on account of the flu. Among the white pupils the attendance was about the same as when school was dismissed. Mexican children, however, were absent in large numbers, and no Mexican students reported at the Mexican school at Washington, and the teachers went home.

It is very likely that a vast majority of the Mexicans were not aware of the re-opening this morning. Few of them read the daily papers and probably will not learn of the resumption of school until it is passed by word of mouth.

Every precaution is being taken by the teachers to prevent spread of the disease by Mexican children going to school. They will be watched carefully and questioned as to whether flu exists in any of their families. When ever one is reported the child from that family will be made to return home.

PEOPLE OF BIBLE LANDS CALLING TO WORLD CHRISTIANS

E. S. Palmer Heads Sunday School Move In This District For Relief Fund

E. S. Palmer of Orange has been chosen by the California State Sunday School Association and International Sunday School Association, with headquarters in Chicago, as the leader of a campaign looking toward a Continental-Wide Sunday School Visitation Day, December first, when every Sunday School in North America will be visited by a representative of the Organized Sunday School Movement, in behalf of the suffering thousands in Bible lands.

"Christian North America" said Mr. Palmer "is being called on at this time to pour out its money for Liberty bonds and for War Service activities of every kind. It is responding nobly. Another challenging call, however, is sounding in the ears of the Christian people of North America. It is the call of over two million people in Bible lands—Armenians, Syrians and Greeks of Asia Minor."

"These people, who are the hope of civilization in Western Asia, have endured, and are enduring, such suffering as our American minds cannot conceive. They have been massacred and deported. Men have been separated from their families and ruthlessly murdered. Attractive women and girls have been sold as slaves or taken by the Turks. The rest of the women and the children have been driven into the mountains and the desert and the path over which these refugees have gone is strewn with the dead. In the past two years over one million have died from massacre, deportation, exposure and disease. But the dead no longer challenge us; it is those who live and can yet be saved."

"The ravages of war the past year have added to the horror. The Turkish armies have destroyed everything in their wake. Four million people, destitute of home, clothed only in rags, are facing the cold of winter and starvation. One million of these can be reached by relief agencies. Four hundred thousand of them are orphans. The relief agencies can do nothing unless North America furnishes the money."

"The land where Christianity had its birth is asking for a practical demonstration of that Christianity now. All the denominations have united to answer this call from the East and a campaign has been launched to raise two million dollars from the Sunday Schools of North America. Every Sunday School is asked to give a Christmas Season offering to Armenian and Syrian Relief work."

"To make sure that no Sunday School is overlooked in this appeal the International Sunday School Association is planning to have every Sunday School visited on December first for the purpose of explaining the need, creating enthusiasm and pledging the schools to make as large an offering as possible. The International Sunday School Association in this campaign is working in co-operation with the Armenian and Syrian Relief Committee in New York and two million which they are to raise is part of a large campaign on the part of the committee for thirty million dollars."

"The Armenian and Syrian Relief Committee have already done a wonderful work in ministering to the suffering people and have been enabled to save thousands of lives. The Committee is directed by leading men of the Continent and its work has been highly endorsed by President Wilson, and Sir Robert Borden, the Premier of Canada and by Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft. One feature of the work of the Committee is unique. It is enabled to donate all money collected for relief work to the immediate cause for which it is given. Expenses for collection, printing, postage and administration and the transmitting of funds, are met privately. Distribution of all supplies is cared for by the American Consular forces and American missionaries, whose services are loaned for this ministry."

COURTHOUSE NEWS

JUDGMENT IS GIVEN
UPON GROUND THAT LAND WAS ALKALINE

Today Judge West rendered a decision finding that representations were made by a real estate agent, H. L. Stanford, so far from the facts in the case that the purchaser of a piece of land was entitled to get his money back. Jonas Thowson of Los Angeles sued William Veit of Philadelphia to compel Veit to make payments on 10.55 acres of land in the northwestern part of the county. Veit answered and asked judgment for $1480 which he had paid. He said that Stanford represented that the land was fit for English walnuts. Veit, an easterner, fancied he wanted to raise English walnuts, and he bought. He was told the land was worth $800 to $1000 an acre, and after he got it he found it was heavy and full of alkali.

LONDON, Nov. 18. (British Admiralty Wireless.)—President Wilson has sent a message to Lloyd-George congratulating him on the "admirable temper" of his address of November 12.

The President's message follows: "May I express my sincere admiration of the admirable temper and purpose of your address of the 12th, reproduced in part in one of your papers. It is delightful to be made aware of such community of thought and counsel in approaching the high and difficult task now awaiting us."

LIGHTLESS NIGHT
BAN STILL ON, BUT NOT FOR WAR WORK

Because the lightless night order was lifted last Monday night to permit celebration of Victory, many people got the idea the ban was discontinued entirely. Such is not the case, however, according to notice from the fuel administration, which advises that activities of the fuel administration will continue throughout the winter. All members of fuel committees have been requested to continue with their work until advised to the contrary by Dr. Garfield, national fuel administrator.

The Monday and Tuesday lightless nights remain in force, but were temporarily lifted during the United War work campaign with regard to show windows signs and other lights devoted exclusively to advertising the war relief campaign. This temporary lifting of the ban expires at midnight tonight, when the war drive ends. Official notice has been received here that gasoline and distillate may again be sold after 6 p. m.
